TRANSPORTATION DETAILS

We have chartered a 56-passenger bus through Kelly Tours. They provide the driver and the bus. The bus has Wi-Fi and television service (adults choose the viewing options.) All big luggage stored underneath. Backpacks can be brought to seats and may be stored in rack above seats. The bus driver is the rule maker for bus behavior. There is a restroom on the bus if needed, but we will stop periodically for restroom breaks.

BUS RULES

- Students will be counted each time we load to ensure we have all our students.
- Snacks & drinks are allowed unless privilege revoked or bus driver rules are different. Bus is not to be left messy. Any food, trash, or paper left under students' seats are to be cleaned before they disembark for camp or to go home.
- Students may bring pillows and blankets onto the bus, but students may NOT share a blanket. There will be no pairs of students under one blanket on the bus.
- Students may need to walk back to the restroom or to share something with an adult briefly, but otherwise, there is no walking up and down the aisle while the bus is moving. Students are to remain seated.

MONEY MATTERS

- Students will need money (cash, credit card, Apple Pay) for lunch on Saturday and on Wednesday during our drives.
- Once at camp, the only money they will need is for camp swag. Generate Camp sells shirts, hoodies, caps, journals, stickers and a variety of other items. These are not required. Every student gets a camp t-shirt for attending, but any extra items are on them to purchase.
- You may purchase Camp Bucks at the Generate website for your student to use at the product table, or just send cash or Apple Pay options.
- How much? Fast-food is not cheap, so play for $20 each meal (should be more than enough) and any other funds you wish to send are your choice. If you send money for meals and your student uses it all on camp swag, they will not have money for lunch on Wednesday. Of course, no one will go hungry, but prepare them to budget. Since we are going to Chick-fil-A (or Taco Bell) some students use the Chick-fil-A app connected to their parents' card. It's your choice.

DRESS CODE

- The camp dress code form is attached. We had no issues last year and don't anticipate any but prepare your student. Basic rule – if an adult leader says “You need to change your clothes” the response is “Yes sir/ma'am” without attitude. If unreasonable request, our adults will deal with it, but dress code drama is not what we desire nor will we tolerate.

CELL PHONES

- We are not going to collect phones, monitor usage, etc. If your student has a phone, you have likely had many conversations about what is appropriate and not. However, if during Bible study, church time, or worship we see students on their phones (and not just looking up verses or taking pics of the worship time) we will tell them to put the phones away. They must do so. Each student will have different phone rules based on your house rules.
- Bottom line – we do not want distractions from what God is doing through camp and if the phones become that, we will tell students to lock them up in their rooms during our gathering times.
- Be sure to check the camp schedule if you get/send texts to your student. Except for emergencies, please do not text or call them during worship, church time, rec, and group time. You are their parents so of course you can communicate with your student, but we have discovered it is best if a daily “Good morning” or “Good evening” is about all. If there is a serious emergency, we encourage you to let one of our adults know so we can help.
